Research Agenda: (1) Improve accessibility & appropriate use of mainly multilevel & structural equation models. (2) Advance research on populist polarization, namely the measurement & mitigation of partisan motivated democracy eroding policy preferences. (3) Understand motivations underlying secessionist attitudes.

Impact Statement: (1) In the past decade I have led one of the largest political science methods education centers that, during this time, was responsible for the training of around 10,000 course participants. In 2019, I became the editor of the Methods and Measurement section of Frontiers in Political Science & in 2021 I (co-)founded MethodsNET to advance pluralistic social science methods. (2) I am committed to producing publicly available data which lead to my participation in the European Election Study (mainly 2009), Comparative Study of Election Systems (contributing Hungary 2018 & Tunisia 2019), European Social Survey Wave 10 Democracy & COVID Questionnaire Design Teams. I also extended the Global Populism Database w/ US Governors data & lead the revival of the Hungarian Twin Registry. (3) Improved public understandings of populism, spawning The Guardian's 84 article New Populism series. Based on my research, I proposed and designed the most visited: “How Populist Are You?” (1.5 million views).

Book Contracts, Article and Chapter Invitations

Revise and Resubmit on the 2019 Municipal Elections in Hungary for East European Politics (w/ Daniel Kovarek)

Manuscript in preparation for Structural Equation Modeling SAGE QASS Series (w/ Jochen Mayerl - Contract Signed)

Chapter accepted on Twin Studies in the Social Sciences (w/ Elena Cristina Mitrea) for a twin studies textbook edited by Adam Tarnoki, David Tarnoki, Jennifer Harris, Nancy Segal

Chapter accepted “Genetics and Public Opinion” for the Handbook on Politics and Public Opinion (w/ Gergő Závecz)

Works in Progress

Book Manuscripts in Preparation

Edited Volume on the Consequences and Mitigation of Populism (w/ co-eds. Kirk Hawkins, Eliza Hawkins, Nina Wiesehomeier and Angelos Chrystosogelos) on the longitudinal description of democratic hypocrisy in the US (w/ Jennifer McCoy and Gabor Simonovits) on perspective taking mitigating anti-democratic policy preferences (w/ Bence Hamrák, Jennifer McCoy and Gabor Simonovits) on the introduction of the Tunisian Election Study (w/ Ameni Mehrez) on quantitative text analysis of Populism in the US (w/ Olaf van der Veen and Semir Dzebo) on populism of US Governors (w/ Erin Jenne and Semir Dzebo) on secessionist attitudes in the US (w/ Semir Dzebo) on augmenting experimental inference with mechanistic information from within case analysis through processes tracing. (w/ Derek Beach) on improving the use of structural equation models with experimental data. (aimed at Structural Equation Modeling: A Multidisciplinary Journal Teacher's Corner or similar w/ Hadi Sam Nariman) on the utility of vague concepts for comparative survey question development. (w/ Ben Stanley) on the application of Sylometry to political speeches (w/ Rebecca Kittel and Artjom Shelya) on mixture model corrections of misreported logistic regression outcomes (w/ Michael C. Neale) on level 2 sample size and model specification issues in multilevel models (w/ Akos Mate, Michael Dorsch) on experiments and structural equation models (w/ Hadi Sam Nariman) on measuring ideology (w/ Nemanja Stankov and others potentially) and multiple manuscripts using the CUPESE data (see Tosun et al 2019 above) on intergenerational transition of psychological characteristics (w/ Jose Luis Arco-Tirado and Francisco D. Fernández-Martín)
